

The Straz Center Accessibility Statement

The Straz Center is committed to providing a website that is accessible to everyone.

To further this commitment, we are using Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.1, Level AA, which provides standards for making web content more accessible for all visitors, including people with disabilities.

Continuous Monitoring of Content

In the interest of staying ahead of emerging technology, The Straz Center website has been tested with the latest software and methodologies to maintain accessible content for all. Specifically, The Straz Center website was tested with assistive technology including screen reader software, alternative input (keyboard only) functionality, color contrast analyzers and magnification software. In addition to accessibility compatibility testing, The Straz Center website was also tested for usability. Various accessibility issues have been brought to our attention. Over the next few months, we will be creating and executing a plan to address these issues so that all of our visitors can access and use our website.

It is our goal to not only meet the minimum accessibility standards, but to exceed them by ensuring that the website is also usable. We are committed to addressing any issues that may arise while accessing our digital content and will readily provide assistance as needed if immediate solutions are not available.
